Hello,

I think the entire persecution of Microsoft was unnecessary, uncalled for and a waste of tax payers money.

The settlement is another form of government extortion. I do not feel one bit safer, one bit freer, one bit more capable of making purchasing decisions with the Federal government having filed this suit and all the attendant cost to us via taxes and the revenue lost to the government with Microsoft being able to deduct their legal expenses.

Do not waste another minute of time or expense on this issue. This entire issue was a display of blatant class envy. The foremost users of class envy where the communists. Are there any correlations here?

Allow Microsoft the ability to do charitable works with school systems they select.

Thank You,
HJH
